Biodiversity: Values and Conservation Strategies

Report

Biodiversity is the variety and variability among the life on earth. It includes Plants, Animals and Micro-organisms which supports various processes in ecosystem. Biodiversity provides various services such as food, oxygen, medicine, fiber and many more. Though there is tremendous diversity in species only one species "Human" is trying to command the nature which is leading to loss of biodiversity, human-wildlife conflict, habitat loss etc.

India is one of the mega centers of biodiversity with tremendous diversity of life in different parts especially in hotspot regions. Western Ghats is one of the hotspots with rich endemic flora and fauna. Satara district is the part of Sahyadri which appeared on world map in 2012 when Kas Plateau is declared as World Natural Heritage Plateau by UNESCO. Kas plateau is full of floral diversity especially endemic ephemerals which blooms in monsoon. Such plateaus and other habitats are disturbed due anthropogenic activities and action should be taken for conservation of such habitats. From this point of view the Department of Botany has organized One Day Workshop on Biodiversity: Values and Conservation Strategies under Lead College Scheme. The workshop begins with welcome speech by Dr. S. M. Deshpande, Head, Department of Botany, followed by the felicitation of guests. The concept behind Lead College Scheme, Shivaji University, Kolhapur is elaborated by Dr. N. D. Nikam, Chairman, Lead College

Committee. The first session is conducted by Prof. S. A. Mohite, Head, Department of Botany, on Flowers of Kas plateau; he discussed about seasonal changes in flowering plant diversity, fencing around the plateau, tourism, role of forest department, policy makers, academicians in biodiversity conservation. The second session was conducted by Mr. S. H. Bhoite, Honorary Wildlife Warden, Satara District. He drawn a picture of Wildfire and its impact on flora, fauna and society. He illustrated the reasons, kinds, impacts of forest fire, its history and science behind it in past, human – wildlife conflict, loss of biodiversity etc. in very nicely. The workshop is conducted under the aegis of Hon. Prin. Dr. V. S. Sawant and concludes with presidential address by Prof. S. D. Jadhav, Vice-Principal. The staff of Department of Botany has taken efforts for successful execution of the program. There are 59 student participants from B. Sc., M. Sc. And B. Voc. streams who have successfully attended the workshop. The participants got e- certificate after successful submission of feedback form.
