Rangoli is an art form that originates from in the Indian subcontinent, in which patterns are created on the floor or a tabletop. It is an everyday practice in Hindu households; however, the colours are preferred during festivals and other important celebrations as it is time consuming. Rangolis are usually made during Dusshera, Diwali, Onam, Pongal, Sankranti and other Hindu festivals in the Indian subcontinent.

There are many different kinds of rangolis. There are traditional interpretations in powdered lime stone, red ochre, dry rice flour, coloured sand, quartz powder, flower petals, and coloured rocks. However, floral rangoli is by far the best one because that is the one that looks most colourful.

The floral Rangoli is made with fresh flowers and flower petals particularly at entrances and temple premises like a flower mat. In Kerala, floral rangoli is also called as “Pookalam” or “Pookolam”. The term Pookolam is consisting of two words that is ‘Poo’ means Flower and ‘Kolam’ means Decorative pattern of a rangoli. The Malayalee’s are authorities in making the intricate patterns on the floor with fresh flowers and petals. Many of the flowering plants are used for decorations as well as rangolis. To enhance the creativity and impart the skill of floral decoration the Department of Botany, D. P. Bhosale College, Koregaon has organized “Floral Rangoli Competition” on 8th October, 2022 on the occasion of “National Wildlife Week”.

The event was inaugurated with the auspicious hands of Hon. Dr. A. S. Bhoite, Member, Governing Council, Rayat Shikshan Sanstha, Satara, Former Pro-Vice Chancellor, Shivaji University Kolhapur in gracious presence of Hon. Prin. Dr. V. S. Sawant, Prof. S. D. Jadhav and the Examiner of the Competition Dr. U. S. Pawar, Head, Department of Botany, Amdar Shashikant Shinde, Mahavidyalaya, Medha. The felicitation of guest was carried over by Hon. Prin. Dr. V. S. Sawant and Dr. S. M. Deshpande, Head, Department of Botany, D. P. Bhosale College, Koregaon.

Total 32 students participated in this Floral Rangoli Competition of which 5 best floral rangolis were shortlisted. The faculty of Department of Botany Dr. P. P. Kamble, Dr. R. B. Patil, Dr. S. B. Zimare, Dr. P. S. Kakade taken efforts for success of the event.
