International Vulture Awareness Day Celebration

Report

The Department of Zoology at D.P. Bhosale College has consistently organized events like this to raise awareness among students about the importance of preserving our environment and maintaining ecological balance. Such initiatives not only educate the youth but also inspire them to take an active role in safeguarding our natural world.

Welcome of Vice Principal Mrs. A. S. Salunkhe by Dr. Mrs. S.P. Nalawade

International Vulture Awareness Day serves as an opportunity to shed light on the critical ecological role played by these birds of prey and to promote vulture conservation. At D.P. Bhosale College in Koregaon, the Department of Zoology celebrated this important day on Saturday, 2nd September 2023, with the aim of creating awareness about the plight of vultures and their significance in maintaining ecological balance in the environment.

The celebration was organized with great enthusiasm under the guidance of Dr. Mrs. S. P. Nalawade, the Head of the Department of Zoology. The program sought to educate students about the pressing issues facing vulture populations and to encourage them to actively participate in vulture conservation efforts.

The highlight of the event was an informative talk delivered by Dr. Mrs. S. P. Nalawade, Head Department of Zoology. Her presentation provided a comprehensive understanding of the importance of vultures in the ecosystem and the alarming decline of certain vulture species, pushing them to the brink of extinction. The talk emphasized the urgent need for vulture conservation and the pivotal role that vultures play in maintaining ecological balance by scavenging and preventing the spread of diseases.

Awareness Spread by Students

The faculty members of the Department of Zoology, including Dr. Ms. K. J. Kamble, Mrs. N. A. Shaikh, and Mr. S.A. Sudney, actively participated in the program. Their contributions added depth and insight to the discussions on vulture conservation and ecological harmony.

The students of D.P. Bhosale College displayed tremendous enthusiasm and engagement throughout the event. They actively participated in discussions and asked pertinent questions, demonstrating their genuine interest in vulture conservation. The informative talk resonated with the students, leaving them motivated to contribute to vulture protection and environmental preservation.

The celebration of International Vulture Awareness Day at D.P. Bhosale College was a resounding success. It succeeded in its mission to educate and inspire students about the urgent need for vulture conservation. Dr. Mrs. S. P. Nalawade, along with the dedicated faculty members and enthusiastic students, played a vital role in making this event meaningful and impactful.

As we commemorate International Vulture Awareness Day, it is essential to remember the vital role that vultures play in our ecosystem and to take collective action to ensure their survival. Events like these serve as a reminder that we must work together to protect these magnificent birds and maintain the ecological balance in our environment.
