Celebration of Shorebird Day

Report

On September 6, 2023, the Department of Zoology at D. P. Bhosale College in Koregaon celebrated World Shorebirds Day with great enthusiasm and dedication. The event aimed to raise awareness about the critical importance of shorebirds and their habitats, highlighting the ongoing challenges they face due to human-induced threats.

The students from B.Sc. Part I, II, and III downloaded the E-Bird by Cornell Lab App on their mobile devices. This app is a valuable resource for bird enthusiasts and researchers, allowing them to contribute real-time data on bird observations, thus assisting scientists in monitoring bird distribution and abundance.

Dr. Ms. K. J. Kamble, a faculty member, Department of Zoology, played informative videos related to shorebirds and their conservation. These videos provided valuable insights into the world of shorebirds, their remarkable migrations, and the challenges they face.

Vice Principal Mrs. A.S. Salunkhe, Ms. N. A. Shaikh and Mr. S. A. Sudnye, faculty members from the Department of Zoology actively participated in the event, demonstrating their commitment to raising awareness about the importance of shorebird conservation. Their knowledge and expertise contributed significantly to the event's success. Dr. Mrs. S. P. Nalawade, the Head of the Department of Zoology, took a leading role in organizing the event. Her dedication to creating awareness about the need to preserve shorebird habitats was evident in the event's execution.

The students displayed remarkable enthusiasm throughout the event. Their active participation, engagement with the educational content, and the initiative to download the E-Bird app showcased their commitment to learning and contributing to shorebird conservation efforts.

The celebration of World Shorebirds Day at D. P. Bhosale College successfully achieved the following objectives :

1. Raising Public Awareness : The event effectively raised public awareness about the importance of protecting shorebirds and their habitats throughout their life cycles. It highlighted the urgent need to address human-induced threats to these species.
2. Promoting Ongoing Research : By showcasing the significance of ongoing shorebird research, the event encouraged students and faculty to engage with scientific endeavours aimed at understanding and conserving these birds.
3. Connecting with Shorebirds : Through videos and the E-Bird app, participants were connected with shorebirds globally, emphasizing their ecological importance and fostering a deeper connection with these remarkable birds.

4. Introducing Shorebirds to Birdwatchers : Shorebird enthusiasts were encouraged to introduce these birds to more birdwatchers, thus expanding the community of individuals dedicated to shorebird conservation.

The celebration of World Shorebirds Day at D. P. Bhosale College, Koregaon, on September 6, 2023, was a resounding success. It achieved its objectives by raising awareness, promoting education, and fostering a sense of responsibility towards the conservation of shorebirds and their habitats. The active participation of students and faculty members showcased the dedication of the institution to environmental conservation, ensuring a brighter future for these remarkable birds.
